ELKS BREAK GROUND

KENT AND SON BEGIN WORK ON CLUBHOUSE FOR GLENDALE LODGE

There was a very important occurrence in Glendale Friday when C. W. Kent & Son broke ground for the new Elks' building on Colorado street near Brand boulevard. Kent & Son have the contract for erecting this immense club house and it will require several weeks' time to remove the ground for the basement space. The work will be rushed as rapidly as possible under the management of these able contractors. The building committee deserve much credit for the performance of ardent duties in the preparation of the specifications and plans for the new edifice. The members of this committee are all men of business experience, and are:

John W. Usilton, chairman of the committee, for several years was president of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce.

Robert M. Jackson, prominent in Glendale as a real estate dealer, is a member of the Board of Trustees of the city of Glendale.

Peter L. Ferry, a valuable member of the committee, is a road contractor, who is in the habit of doing things on a large scale.

James W. Pearson, a real estate dealer, is an expert in the way of giving needed attention to details.

A. L. Weaver is a gentleman of expert clerical ability.

L. C. Forrest of Fillmore is used to handling big business and rendered valuable service on the committee.

Albert D. Pearce, as an attorney and Exalted Ruler of the Elks' Lodge, also rendered valuable service and steered the committee clear of legal entanglements.

The committee continues in power and will thus remain until this magnificent building has been completed.

STAGE ROUTE TO PASADENA

While Glendale and Pasadena are only a few miles apart, the people of both cities have long had to endure the inconvenience of no direct route of communication between the two cities except by automobile. This has been a hardship for those who make regular trips to the Crown city from Glendale and do not have cars at their disposal. The Glendale & Montrose Railway company have recognized this need and have made arrangements for a stage route from the end of their line in Eagle Rock to Pasadena, to begin to-morrow, July 1. This will be a much appreciated convenience for the people of Glendale. Details in regard to time, fare, etc., are given in another column.

OPEN PLAYGROUND

The executive committee of the Pacific avenue playground met in R. D. White's office at the Intermediate school Friday afternoon, where it was decided to have the playground officially opened for the summer on July 4, with an appropriate program and a series of games for boys and girls. Messrs. Clark, Hartmann and R. D. White will be in charge of the sports. Lemonade and ice cream will be served on the grounds.

TENTH BIRTHDAY

Ten candles adorned the cake and ten boys helped celebrate the tenth birthday anniversary of John Blake Franklin. It was a "Fourth of July" party and the patriotic colors were largely used in decoration.

Fire works as far as is permissible in Glendale, and other amusements were provided by the host, as well as delicious ice cream and cake. The boys enjoying the celebration were Kenneth White, Wilbur Reed, Layton Taylor, Jack Alvord, Wayne Yarrick, Earl Van Dyke, Gordon McRae and John Franklin.

CARUTHERS RETURN

M. E. Caruthers of 1104 Chestnut street, Gelndale, accompanied by his mother and his sister, returned Thursday from a four weeks' auto trip to Yosemite, Red Wood Park, Pacific Grove and other interesting points in California. While on their trip they visited E. A. Purdy at McFarland. Mr. Purdy was formerly a resident of Glendale. He now owns a 40-acre farm at McFarland.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Bott have traded some Los Angeles property for a ranch at Pomona. They expect to locate there as soon as they dispose of their Glendale business. At present they will go back and forth to the ranch in their new Buick.

BIG CONVENTION

THE VICTORIOUS LIFE THEME OF STATE CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR GATHERING

C. E, certainly stands for Consecrated Enthusiasm if the spirit and fellowship of the Riverside State Christian Endeavor Convention is carried out in the local work over the State. Three thousand young folks with their thunder of music, crashes of applause, college type yells, laughter, oratory, flashing sallies of wit and absolute stillness of prayer, have taken Riverside by storm.

A great ungainly fruit packing house has been transformed into a splendid convention auditorium with seating for 3500 people. C. E. colors, banners and pennants give color and grace. Booths, balconies and platforms, as well as the main floor, are alive with the activities of our best young people.

Glendale furnishes the president for this gathering, Mr. Howard Brown, besides its quota of speakers, singers, etc.

The program is well built to carry out the watchword, "the Victorious Life." I Cor. 15:57 is used in all greetings on the street and elsewhere. One endeavorer exclaims "I Corinthians;" the other will reply, "fifteen fifty-seven." Riverside will know at least one verse of scripture by Sunday night.

Gov. Stephens speaks to the hosts of youth today at Fairmount Park. Saturday afternoon a great parade representing thirty-eight counties in religious pageant will be participated in by 1000 Los Angeles county delegates.

The Billy Sunday campaign is in on the program, showing its far-reaching prospects.

"I'll see you in Sacramento next year," is what one hears in and about the convention hall. In the fight between Fresno, San Francisco and Sacramento our capitol city seems to have the best of the deal. The convention's decision will no doubt gladden the hearts of the enthusiastic bunch from the northeast.

A telegram, insisting on the "Bone Dry" amendment to the Food Bill, to the Senate, received deafening applause at Thursday afternoon's meeting.

The convention abounds in features. Interest and enthusiasm have piled themselves upon one another in a bewildering fashion throughout. With Sunday night's session completed, one of the State's largest and finest and most fruitful conventions will have sent its delegates out over our State to really bless and transform the moral and religious temper of our great commonwealth.

RECRUITS WANTED FOR NEW BATTERY

Word has been received from Adjt-Gen. Borree by Captain H. L. Powell that a new battery of field artillery, Battery F, has been assigned to Los Angeles and vicinity. This is an unusual opening for young men. The pay is good and it is all mounted service. Battery A of Los Angeles will entrain Sunday, presumably for training in San Francisco, and it is expected that Battery F will follow immediately. Capt. Powell has received orders to muster in the battery by July 7 and it is hoped that a contingent from Glendale will join this organization. Recruits are wanted for this battery. Any young men who wish to enlist may leave their names at the Evening News office and they will be turned over to Captain Powell.

HOME WEDDING

A very pretty wedding was solemnized Friday noon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. I. Lovell, 115 N. Central, when their daughter, Miss Artie E. Lovell, was united in marriage to Jesse A. Goldthwaite of 338 S. Orange. The bride was attired in white silk with chiffon overdress and carried a bouquet of white Cecil Bruner roses and lilies of the valley. The house was most artistically decorated with pink carnations. The Rev. Hardy of Redondo Beach officiated. The couple were unattended.

Those present at the ceremony were Mrs. F. O. Goldthwaite and Miss Helen Goldthwaite, mother and sister of the groom, Dean Sharman, Burt Brown, Mesdames Crawford and Sanford, all of Glendale, and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kortz of Redondo Beach, uncle and aunt of the groom. The young couple have gone to San Diego for a short trip and will be at home at 338 S. Orange on their return.

PERSHING AND SIBERT MEET

CHIEF OF AMERICA'S FIGHTING FORCES GREETS HIS TROOPS ON THEIR ARRIVAL IN FRANCE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

A FRENCH PORT, June 30.—For the first time in history, two American generals on a war mission, met, saluted and clasped hands on French soil. This was the meeting of Generals Pershing and Sibert here to-day where the American army waits restlessly to get into action. Pershing arrived to meet his troops two days after they had landed. "This is the happiest of the busy days I have spent in France," he said. "To-day I see our troops safe on French soil from transports guarded in their journey across the Atlantic by the resourceful vigilance of the American navy, and now our tasks as soldiers lie clearly ahead," he continued. "I hope to make our force worthy in skill and determination to fight side by side with our brothers in the French army."

NEW DREADNAUGHT LAUNCHED

IDAHO, MOST POWERFFUL OF AMERICA'S BATTLESHIPS, SET AFLOAT AT CAMDEN, NEW JERSEY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

CAMDEN, N. J., June 30.—The dreadnaught, Idaho, sister ship of the Pennsylvania and Mississippi, the most powerful of America's warships, was launched here to-day. The Idaho is believed by navy officials to be almost submarine-proof. She is a ship of 32,000 tons gross, and is driven by a 32,000 H. P. turbine, has a speed of 21 knots per hour and is armed with 12 14-inch guns mounted in trios and two 21-inch torpedo tubes.

SUBMARINES CAN'T CHANGE RESULT

LLOYD-GEORGE SAYS ALLIES HAVE SUCH RESERVES OF MUNITIONS THAT OUTCOME OF WAR IS ASSURED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

DUNDEE, Scotland, June 30.—"We now have such reserves of munitions that whatever the submarines may do, they cannot prevent our successful prosecution of the war," Lloyd-George said in a speech here this morning. "We have driven the great German army into the ground," he continued, and "this means the beginning of the end. This means that we must begin pounding the sense of their inferiority into the German mind.

GREECE PREPARES FOR WAR

ARMY CHIEFS IN CONFERENCE EXPECT DECLARATION OF HOSTILITIES FROM GERMANY IMMEDIATELY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

ATHENS, June 30.—Greece moved swiftly in her war action against Germany this morning. Greek army chiefs were summoned to the capital for a conference as to the best means of utilization of the army. It is confidently expected that Germany will declare war against Greece immediately.

EXCESS PROFITS FOR WAR FUND

FINANCE COMMITTEE RECOMMENDS THAT INFLATED INCOMES CONTRIBUTE LARGELY TO WAR TAX

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Excess profits will contribute $730,000,000 toward the war tax being formulated by the Senate if the Finance committee's recommendation is approved by Congress.

BRITISH CLOSE AROUND LENS

HAIG'S TROOPS WITH IRRESISTIBLE FORCE ADVANCE ONE MILE ON FOUR-MILE FRONT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, June 30.—A gain of over one mile on a 4-mile front is reported by the British war department to-day. With irresistible force Haig's troops closed closer around Lens. Gen. Haig said, "The result of our attack was the strong defense system covering Lens, captured from the enemy."

CROWN PRINCE IN SAVAGE ATTACK

TEUTONS PENETRATE FIRST LINE TRENCHES OF FRENCH IN THE VICINITY OF VERDUN

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, June 30.—Picked troops driven forward in the most savage attack the German crown prince has ever attempted, penetrated the French first line trenches near Verdun on a mile and a half front. The Teutons were immediately driven back and fearful losses were inflicted. The net gain to the invaders was a small part of the west slope of Dead Man's Hill.

NORTH GLENDALE

SOCIAL CALENDAR OF FOOTHILL RESIDENTS CROWDED WITH MANY EVENTS

It is a common remark among the ladies of Casa Verdugo circles that they are simply "driven" these days to keep up with the events on the social calendar week after week including all affairs pertaining to the war.

On Tuesday evening a large delegation of Casa Verdugoans and Glendalians attended the recital in the "Little Theatre", Los Angeles, under the anspices of the Matinee Musical Club of Los Angeles, for whom the stellar attraction in the lengthy program was the prize winning composition "Life's Hour" (a chorus for womens' voices) of Mr. Julius Kranz of 1325 North Brand Boulevard. At the Second Annual May Competition, 1917, the Judges, Harvey D. Hamilton, Jarslaw de Zielinski and Edwin Schallert awarded Mr. Kranz the prize.

The affair was quite a social event and the Little Theatre was filled with a brilliant audience.

Mr. Kranz' number was received with fine appreciation and the entire program of original compositions for voice and string by home talent was of high merit and greatly enjoyed. Among those in attendance were the following parties: Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Kranz and son, with Mr. Julius Kranz and Miss Gertrude Champlain; Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Kelley, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Whitten of Riverdale Drive and Mrs. Champlain; Mrs. Alex Mitchell and Misses Lorraine and Barbara Mitchell; Miss Annie McIntyre, her sister, Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. M. Ogden Ryan; Mrs. H. W. Peterson and party, Miss Eulalia Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. George Mitchell of Burbank.

On Thursday afternoon, the reception given at the Alexandria in the blue room by the Parent-Teacher associations of the first district to Dr. Jessie A. Russell, state president of the Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher associations, was attended by a numerous contingent from the foothills and Glendale.

Mrs. Chas. H. Toll was accompanied by Mrs. Arthur C. Brown. Mrs. Ella Richardson and several from Riverdale drive and Pacific avenue. Mrs. N. C. Kelley, accompanied by Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, Mrs. John Robert White, Mrs. Cora S. Taylor and Mrs. John S. Whitten. Many others from Glendale and vicinity were noticed among the large gathering.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Wyman of North Maryland have been east several weeks. They attended the national convention of Rotary Clubs in Atlanta Georgia.

That erect young man with soldierly bearing and stride, wearing a spotless uniform of the U. S. Marines, coming toward us on the avenue, proved to be one of "our own," Ray Frederick Enos, up from the U. S. Marine Barracks at San Diego on furlough. Enos is a private in Co. 36th, National Naval Volunteers, U. S. Marine Corps, which is the title replacing the name of the state organization, California Naval Reserve. His father, Albert Enos, drilled along side of him for a few blocks with an expression that spoke louder than words, "some soldier."

Mr. H. J. Olmsted of 1121 Melrose avenue and son Ennis are in San Diego for a few days on an outing.

Mrs. Bunker, after a prolonged stay in Arizona, has returned to her place on Valley View Road to "sell out."

George E. Larkey has sold his acre place "La Quinta" on Valley View Road to John Lamberti, formerly of Los Angeles, and who holds a position with one of the large dry-goods department stores in that city.

Mrs. Florence Kurtz of 1001 Melrose avenue, a practical nurse, returned to-day from the engagement for the care of Mrs. Beeman (formerly of Beeman & Hendie, Los Angeles), who died at the home on Palmer avenue, Tropico, last week, and upon whom she was in attendance for six weeks. Although this case demanded exacting and particular attention, the nursing was most satisfactory. It is not generally known that Mrs. Kurtz is a practical nurse, open to engagements.

An old time girlhood friend, Miss Attelia Hassinger of Santa Barbara, is visiting Mrs. N. C. Kelley this week.

FOOD CONVERSATION

AMERICA'S ENTRANCE INTO WAR ONE MOST DISINTERESTED ACTS OF HISTORY

Pastor Geo. A. Snyder in speaking of the subject of "Food Conservation" at the Seventh-Day Adventist church this morning said in part: "We do not begin to realize the momentous meaning of our beloved nation's entrance into the greatest armed conflict of all history. On April 18, when the British Parliament passed resolutions of appreciation of America's action, Ex-premier Asquith said: 'I doubt whether even now the world realizes the full significance of the step America has taken. I do not use language of flattery or exaggeration when I say it is one of the most disinterested acts in history. For more than one hundred years it has been the cardinal principle of American policy to keep clear of foreign entanglements.' John Dillion of the Irish Nationalists on the same occasion said: 'To bring the United States into the war was to make them go against one of the deepest instincts of the soul of the race. The statesmanship, courage and patience of President Wilson bring him into the forefront of all the great statesmen of the past century.'

"Probably the most important phase of the war situation is the food problem. President Wilson's great wisdom and sagacity in this crisis is nowhere more clearly revealed than when in his recent personal appeal he said: 'I call upon young men and old alike, and upon the able bodied boys of the land, to accept and act upon this duty—to turn in hosts to the farms, and make certain that no pains and no labor is lacking in this great matter.' He also adds a little further along the following all-embracing sentence: 'Let me suggest also that everyone who creates or cultivates a garden helps greatly to solve the problem of the feeding of the nations; and that every housewife who practices strict economy puts herself in the ranks of those who serve the nation.'

"Following the President's lead, in speaking of the danger of world famine, the Chicago Tribune says: 'In the midst of our soft upholstered age, our day of purring motors, of steam heated houses, our vestibuled trains, the fox trot, and the movie, in stalks this tremendous visitant, a ghastly skeleton at our banquet.' and again from the same paper we read: 'In this situation the American farm becomes a battle ground, and the American farmer a soldier in the front rank.' If we would all do our utmost in actual practice to carry out in our homes these suggestions that sound so good, it would mean the mightiest beating of plowshares into swords and pruning hooks into spears that this world has ever witnessed. God help us all to act as well as to cheer, to prepare as well as to pray. This is no uncalled for note of alarm, it is a condition and not a mere theory that confronts us with frowning visage. The poet's imagery finds broader scope than he realized when he said:

'The crisis presses on us.
Face to face with us it stands
With solemn lips of question
Like the sphinx on Egypt's sands.'

"It is just as true to-day as when it was written that 'This day we fashion destiny, our web of fate we spin.'

"Let us all in this crucial time face the situation as men and women. 'The Man with the Hoe' has a chance to 'answer back to God' today in a way heretofore undreamed of. The woman described in Proverbs xxxi has her day at last.

"'Her price is far above rubies. The heart of her husband doth safely trust in her. . . . She seeketh wool and flax and worketh willingly with her hands. . . . She considereth a field and buyeth it: with the fruit of her hands she planteth a vineyard (or a patch of potatoes). She girdeth her loins with strength and strengtheneth her arms.' I cannot quote more, but read the whole chapter for yourself, and don't forget to practice it."

The speaker announced that Prof. E. A. Sutherland, of the Tennessee State Food Conservation Commission, will speak in the church on Sunday evening, July 1, at 7:45.

When the speaker asked how many in the audience would be willing to go without meat one whole day each week, someone replied that seven days each week would be more to their liking. The audience was not asked to vote on the question, however, as it was felt that they ought to be a reasonably safe risk on that particular score.

URGES RAISING OF GOATS TO INCREASE FOOD SUPPLY

The goat population of California ought to be multiplied many times over, declares the University of California. There are few foods through which so much nutrition may be produced at so low a cost as is the case with goat's milk.

There are an infinite number of out-of-the-way places in California, with heavy growth of wild grasses now going to waste, which could easily be provided with a supply of fresh milk by the use of goats. The goat thrives admirably in the mountainous districts of California. With some hay, plenty of wild pasture, and a little grain, one good goat would supply a family of five for nine or ten months out of the year. It is entirely practicable to keep a goat in the suburbs of a great number of California towns, where goats can be pastured along roadways, in vacant lots, or in back yards. Many small ranches and country homes where there is not land enough to support a cow could grow feed enough for a goat. Many a California family which now uses condensed milk might have an ample supply of fresh milk by keeping a goat.

A good goat, according to E. C. Voorhies, Instructor in Animal husbandry in the University of California, should produce from 300 to 500 quarts of milk in ten months. Many produce more. When the goat is properly fed and cared for, its milk is as sweet smelling, palatable, and nutritious as the milk from cows. Moreover, the milch-goat is practically free from tuberculosis.

Goat-meat is destined to be increasingly eaten in America, he predicts. If the grade males are slaughtered before they are three months of age, the meat is very palatable, and closely akin to lamb in flavor.

The demand for milch-goats is increasing so rapidly that the University is asking the breeders to send to the Animal Husbandry Division at the University Farm at Davis lists of animals for sale, so that inquirers may be referred to sources of supply.

Frequently grade goats can be purchased for as little as ten dollars. Often they can be housed in a corner of some existing shed, but in any event it costs little to build them shelter from wind and storm. Pasture is the cheapest and best feed for goats. Good clean alfalfa hay is excellent for them. An addition to the ration of some concentrates, such as dried beet pulp, bran, or cocoanut oil meal, is a profitable practice, for the grateful goat promptly responds in increased milk production.

OPPORTUNITY MUST BE SEEN

We read that a million dollars was the profit last year of a man who invented a simple little wheeled toy for children. The toy consists of only a few pieces of wood so put together that the kiddies get all kinds of fun riding on it.

You know the toy well if you have children in the household. You probably have bent over to fix it, or to rescue it from a passing vehicle, or from the clutches of an envious child of the neighborhood, dozens of times. And you have always done so willingly because the kiddies are so pleased with it.

The man who made the fortune out of these toys built the first one for his own little boy. Soon all the boys in the block wanted one.

Now this man's success was simply the result of his ability to see an opportunity. He saw that he had made something children would want—and if you have something children want you have a fortune.

But probably nine-tenths of men would not have seen the opportunity this man saw. Perhaps hundreds of toys just as good as this one are made by fathers—but they don't see the big chance.

Big chances are all around. There are a great many of them—and it is safe to say that only a few of the big chances are taken advantage of.

Is there a big chance staring you in the face? Take a sharp look and think hard. Maybe you'll see one and land big. An opportunity is no good unless you see it and take advantage of it.—Whittier News.

FOLLOW THE YELLOW SIGNS

No man who drives an automobile over the country roads of Northern California can fail to appreciate the work the California State Automobile Association has done in sign-posting the roads.

It is a saying among these drivers that you can not go wrong if you will only "follow the yellow signs." These signs, with their strong blue lettering, guide the traveler safely through unknown territory by day or night.

It may not be generally known that the very colors used in these signs represent months of study and investigation. They were picked by the Southern Pacific company after many experiments as the best possible colors for the purpose of making signs visible at night.

The California State Automobile Association has done much for the men and women who drive cars, but no service the organization can render can equal that performed by these signs.

In various counties some attempt has been made at marking the roads but in few counties has this work been done systematically or completely.

In Southern California the Southern California Automobile Association has posted blue and white signs to guide the travelers but neither in lettering nor in any other respect do these signs compare with the familiar signs of the northern organization.

Sacramento county just recently has been marked with the yellow signs and there is not a traveler over our roads will dispute the statement that these signs are a great boon to the users of the highways.

This association deserves better support than it receives from the owners of cars and others who are interested in the roads.—Sacramento Union.

It is said that laughter will cure indigestion; but the trouble is the man who has it doesn't feel like laughing.

WIRE PRESIDENT

At a meeting at the house of the president, Mrs. Ruby J. Smart, yesterday, the two organizations of the W. C. T. U. in Glendale united in sending the following message to President Wilson:

"To Hon. Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States, White House, Washington, D. C.: One hundred and twenty-five wives and mothers of Glendale's Woman's Christian Temperance Union, voters of California, implore your influence with the Senate against wine and beer, endorsing the house bill. We protest against conserving foodstuffs to be used in poisonous drinks to ruin our boys. See God's attitude. Deut. 29:18-22."

A MERCHANT
has his $50,000 stock of goods destroyed by fire, but he had probably insured it for three-fourths of its value. Suppose, now, that the merchant himself had also been burned up in the fire. What proportion of the loss would the insurance company have to pay? His life would sometimes be so underinsured that his estate would receive only a few thousand dollars more, and yet his life—brains, ability and industry—had created the stock of goods and could create another.
In pure, money value, what is a man's life worth? What was Harriman's or Rockefeller's worth? Your life is valuable. Insure it for all you possibly can.

MISS CHAMPLAIN'S RECITAL

A performance that reflected much credit on both teacher and students was the recital given Thursday evening by the pupils of Miss S. Gertrude Champlain, at the studio, 1009½ Broadway. The studio was crowded to the doors and the sincere applause at the close of every number showed the appreciation and delight of the audience, and it seemed incredible that children should so skillfully and easily render such—for them—difficult music.

Two pupils of Miss Suzine Wessels, the well-known local violinist, Marcella Webb and Lavinia Thede, also won many admiring remarks for their rendering of two selections.

The piano numbers, all of which were enthusiastically received, were as follows:

THE CLEVER KOREANS.

Our fuel resources are still so ample that we find it hard to conceive of a country so poorly supplied with fuel as Korea is. According to an article in the Journal of School Geography, the land bears very little timber, and although good deposits of bituminous and anthracite coal have been found, the government, before the Japanese occupation at least, would give no concessions for mining. The natives dig the surface coal out in a crude way and let the debris and rain water fill up the shafts. Accordingly, the coal, when they finally get it, is usually well rotted from dampness. This poor stuff is sold for as much as $9 a ton—a price that makes it inaccessible for the majority of the natives.

Korean ingenuity, however, has found a means of combating these unfavorable conditions. When a Korean starts to build his house he first lays down a system of flues where the floor is to be. These flues begin at a fireplace, usually built in an outer shed or in a closed alleyway connected with the house. From the fireplace the flues branch out like ribs of a fan, and end in a trench at the back of the floor space. This trench, in turn, opens into a chimney, usually built at some distance from the house. When the flues are completed the builder carefully covers them over with flagstones; he then cements the whole floor and covers it with a sort of thick oiled paper. The rest of the house is then built round the completed floor.

The heating system works in this way: When it is time to cook the rice for the morning meal, the housewife lights a little straw or brushwood in the fireplace in the outer shed. While the rice is cooking, the heat from the fireplace passes through the flues, heating the stone flags of the floor and diffusing a pleasant warmth that lasts until it is time to prepare the next meal. Two heatings a day generally suffice to keep the floor warm. On the floor the people sit by day and sleep by night. The heavy oiled paper that covers the floor prevents any smoke from entering the room. Since the occupants always leave their shoes at the door, the paper wears a long time, and gradually takes on a rich brown color. So here the Koreans sit through the severe winter in their snug little houses; there is no smoke to bother them and no ashes to litter up the house; and all this comfort is brought about by a few handfuls of straw or brushwood.

ENTIRELY BY.

A 7-year-old in a town down South was asked by his teacher at the primary school to produce a composition upon the subject of his favorite literary work. The youngster went into executive session with himself and turned out the following succinct criticism of a well known and popular classic:

"The Book I like best is called Pilgrim's Progress. My mother reads this Book to me every Night before I go to Bed. I love to hear about The Pilgrim. He had a hard time, but he got by!"—Saturday Evening Post.

STRATEGY.

Penelope—Lieut. Huggins seems to be rather attentive to Miss Elderleigh of late. Capt. Jones—Yes, and she is evidently skirmishing round trying to precipitate an engagement.—London Stray Stories.

When Mark Twain was at York Harbor, Me., an old fisherman named Capt. Brooks became one of the humorist's best friends. One day Mark dropped in on the old tar and said, "Capt. Brooks, do you know if there is an osteopath at the harbor?"

"Wal," said the old captain, "the' mebbe, but I ain't never ketched one yet, and I've been fishin' here nigh onter forty years."

"Well," said Mark, "I guess I'll go and inquire at the drug store."

That evening Capt. Brooks told his wife about it, and she said:

"You're a bright one, Jed Brooks; that ain't no fish, it's a bird."—The Ladies' Home Journal.

OUCH!

Chollie—"When I was a boy, you know, the doctor said if I didn't stop smoking cigarettes I might become feeble minded."

Bessie—"And why didn't you stop?"—Puck.

HUMOR.

Humor is the true sixth sense. Lacking it, one misseth the joy of living. It lurks under the serious affairs of life as a violet lurketh under the trees of the forest and when so found is more to be prized than that which shouteth itself from the housetops.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Deaf and Dumb Beggar—Do you think it looks like rain, Bill? Blind Beggar—I dasn't look up to see. Here comes one o' my best customers.—Puck.

Come to the Lutheran Church, corner Fifth and Maryland, this Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and let us study together, "The Kind of Patriotism Needed To-day." And if you cannot come in the morning come in the evening at 7:30, when the pastor will speak on "The Altar of Sacrifice." Beautiful decorations with "Old Glory." Every man, woman and child should be in some church this coming Sunday and worship the "God of nations." You owe it to yourself, your country, your fellowman and the great cause for which our great nation has entered this tremendous conflict to hasten peace in the world. It is our high purpose and resolve to make the entire world safe for Democracy and the pursuits of industrial good will and peace.
